

ARGENTUM MENTORING

Are you ready to take live your true purpose and passion through homeopathy?

Dear Future Integrative Homoeopathic Practitioner,

Years ago I was sitting in your chair, confronted with the same opportunity to step up and take a big chance on myself. I remember being excited, fearful and filled with exhilaration, all at the same time.

How could I be considering this with my life already so full? And where in the world would I find the time to do it? Even more scary was, where would I get the money when my practice has only just begun.

Thankfully, I walked through the decision with the knowledge that it was coming from a higher place. Otherwise I don't think the 'little me' mindset could have moved forward like that, and I certainly would not be enjoying the joy and fulfilment of living my true passion and purpose that came from saying yes.

I know this is a big decision. It will impact your future forever, whether you choose yes or no. Either choice will propel you toward a future that is yours for the taking. The only harmful choice is to not choose. When you take decisive action, you are moving quickly into new worlds of possibility. Indecision will make you stuck and stagnant. It will stop you from sharing your passion and expertise with others.

So I encourage you to be thoughtful today. Give yourself a gift by completing the application and trust yourself. Trust that 'knowing feeling' that you likely already feel inside.

Warmest Regards
Shilpa

We must be willing to give up the life we have planned , so as to have the life that is waiting for us.

Welcome to Argentum Mentoring.

The Argentum Mentoring Program is specifically designed to propel you and your homeopathy to a new height and new stage. It is about living your destiny, contributing your gifts of healing and homeopathy to the world while being richly compensated along the way.

The Argentum Mentoring Program is for any practitioner looking to start using homeopathy as a healing modality either by itself or complement it with other healing modalities. In short they want to design a highly successful homeopathic practice aligned with their innate skills, specialities and talents. It is also for those practitioners have an established practice but now want to take their homeopathy to the next level and improve their results and success rate.

The Argentum Program is a results- focussed program designed to work on your homeopathic challenges on a personal level. It is a perfect combination of world class homeopathic approaches and best practices, an accountability structure, cutting edge mindset conditioning techniques and community support all on a foundation of human psychology, spirituality and personal growth.

It is a unique one-of-a-kind program that is servicing an elite group of practitioners.

Practitioners who want to take advantage of this unprecedented opportunity to build a successful practice around homeopathy and live a fulfilled life from anywhere in the world.

What can I get out of Argentum Mentoring?

Argentum Metallicum is one of the key medicines in homeopathy known for its effect on helping people perform to the best of their abilities and creative potential especially when faced with challenging situations. Argentum Mentoring does the same for practitioners who are looking to achieve the same when they start using homeopathy in practice – It helps fine tune their practical homeopathic skills, special talents and creativity to offer the best for their clients.

Argentum was created for practitioners who can come in three different types

1. Practitioners who are in the start-up phase of their homeopathy – Argentum mentors offer you simple yet highly effective homeopathic strategies that are designed to transform your practice from being a trial and error homeopathic practice to one that provides your client consistent results in a step by step process.
2. For Established Practitioners -Those who have an established homeopathic practice and have reached a stage where they have developed a regular client base but have certain challenging clients where their tried and tested approaches do not work. Argentum mentors will help them unlock these stuck cases by showing them advanced creative strategies to take these patients to a successful resolution by using the best of homeopathy.
3. For Conventional and CAM Practitioners – These practitioners have an established a practice using another health modality and looking to use the best of homeopathy for certain patients. Argentum will offer you effective strategies to complement their existing practice and create a successful integrative model.

What will be my commitment in Argentum Mentoring?

Successful Integrative Practitioners take a series of small but consistent steps to achieve unprecedented results. You have already read about the kind of results our current and past mentees have achieved and are achieving in the program. Plus, by now the amount of detail we put into making your specific vision work.

We need a similar commitment from you. The commitment to listen to your own inner voice and be a practitioner you are meant to be. Be willing to make mistakes, ask questions, challenge your mentors and be open to receive and provide feedback and encouragement to your peers. Set new goals which stretch your comfort zone and take consistent action. You will get as much out of Argentum as much you are willing to receive.

What will we do?

You are definitely going to transform into a multidimensional homeopathic practitioner achieving a lot of personal and professional growth and stay very connected through out the year!!

The Choice is Yours

Being a part of Argentum you will be privy to private benefits, stellar services, insightful coaching, powerful strategies, and practical training designed to give both your homeopathy and your life a serious advantage.

Your homeopathic education is futile if you are stuck when it comes to actually using it in practice . I have seen many homeopathic students who have such a lot of potential and are brimming with excitement as a teacher to see them drifting away, losing confidence within a couple of years when they leave college and opt for a mediocre job.

It is a waste of that wonderful energy, effort, money and commitment you put in for years in your education if you cannot get the fulfilment out of this.

Argentum is created to release your potential and share your gift to the world.

Argentum Mentoring is simply a one-of -a kind opportunity to give yourself the gift of having the ultimate support in sharing your homeopathic dream and on every level.

If this is exactly what you have been waiting for, I can tell you that it will be the best investment you've ever made, financially and spiritually. I will ensure that.

The investment options and terms are outlined at the end of this document.

Your application must be completely filled out. We will not consider applications with missing information.
